History is Alive and Well

- You have hear it said that those who forget history are destined to repeat it. Sheldon Munn loves history and he has learned many lessons from those who have preceded us. Sheldon had been a very active business man and entrepreneur. He will share his experiences in business and how he had learned to follow positive role models. Sheldon will also share his personal faith story.

Presents

Sheldon Munn

Entrepreneur and Maker of Smiles

Sheldon's family came from Germany, arriving in Connecticut in 1639 aboard the sailing ship Thunder and has been a die-hard Yankee ever since. However, he is quick to point out that while he came from Southern New Hampshire, he is identified with General Robert E. Lee, Stonewall Jackson, Colonel Harland Sanders, and S. Truett Cathey – just a few of his heroes- all men from the south.

He is undeniably a workaholic, from the time he delivered newspapers and cad-died, to his retirement at age 72, he's still in the business of putting smiles on people's faces.

A former restaurateur and diamond jewelry merchant, his passion is history. He conducts tours, talks and walks in Harrisburg, Hershey and Gettysburg where he share's his enthusiasm with others. Married to his best friend and life-partner, they have five children and 14 grandchildren. Sheldon and his wife, Carol Lee, live in New Cumberland.

As enthused as he is with history, he has been a soldier for Christ since 1984 having the had the pleasure of watching God's hand move in the ministry of the church and most specifically Christian Business Men's Connection (CBMC).

Come and bring a friend.
